

KEY INVESTOR INFORMATION

PMT MATRIX RUSSIA AND EMERGING MARKETS ALPHA RETURN FUND (the "Fund")

Share Class A (USD) - ISIN Code: IE00BD5L5D68

a sub-fund of PMT Matrix Investment Funds plc (the "Company")

This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

The Fund's investment objective is to seek to maximise total return. The Fund will seek to meet its investment objective by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of equity securities in Russia and other Emerging Market Countries. The Fund may invest all of its assets in Emerging Market Countries (including Russia).

The Investment Manager's strategy will focus on "special situations" and investments in securities denominated in the Ruble or in certain non-Ruble currencies (e.g., USD, GBP or EUR) providing primarily exposure to Russia and other Emerging Market Countries.

The Fund will focus on investments that the Investment Manager believes are undervalued and have the potential to increase in value or experience high levels of growth due to market environment. The Investment Manager will rely on financial and proprietary models to identify whether a particular asset is mispriced or undervalued. "Special situations" refer to event driven investments which seek to achieve gains from market movements in security prices caused by specific corporate events.

The Fund will invest across asset classes, in equity and equity-related securities, debt securities, currencies and derivatives.

Derivatives are financial instruments linked to the value of underlying assets.

The benchmark used by the Fund is MSCI Russia 10/40 Index (the "Benchmark").

The Fund seeks to generate "alpha" which is calculated as the difference between Fund's Net Asset Value calendar year performance and the Benchmark's calendar year performance.

The Benchmark covers approximately 85% of the free float-adjusted market capitalisation in Russia. The Benchmark is designed to measure the performance of mid and large segments of the Russian market.

The Fund is actively managed and has a high degree of freedom from the Benchmark. The Investment Manager may invest in equity securities not included in the Benchmark and the proportion of the Fund's Net Asset Value represented by those investments may be above 50%.

There is no guarantee that the Fund will outperform the Benchmark.

Further details of other categories of investments that the fund may make are set forth in the section of the prospectus entitled "Investment Objectives and Policies of the Fund".

Any income earned on your investment will be reinvested to increase the value of your investment.

You may usually sell your shares by sending your request to the administrator, Credit Suisse Fund Services (Ireland) Limited by 4.00 pm (Irish time) on the fourth Business Day (a day on which retail banks are open for business in Dublin, Luxembourg and Russia) prior to the relevant Valuation Day.

Recommendation: this Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within the short term.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

Lower risk			Higher risk
Typically, lower reward			Typically, higher reward
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The Fund is assigned to this category because its share price may fluctuate due to the unstable political, financial and economic situation in emerging market countries.

The risk indicator is based on simulated and historical data and may not be a reliable indication for the future. The risk category shown above is not guaranteed and may move down or up over time. The numerical scale is complex. For example, 2 is not twice as risky as 1. The gap between 1 and 2 might not be the same as the gap between 5 and 6. A category 1 fund is not a risk-free investment – the risk of losing your money may be small, but the chance of making gains is also limited.

Risks materially relevant to the Fund which may not be adequately captured by the indicator:

- The Fund may not achieve its investment objective and the value of shares in the fund may fall.
- The Fund shall invest significantly in emerging market countries. Such investments will be subject to greater risk due to political, economic, corporate governance, legal, market, accounting and other risks.

- Assets may not be properly held in custody and, as a result, may be lost. It may be more difficult to sell assets at a fair price in emerging markets.

- Low trading volume, lack of a market maker, large size of position or legal restrictions may limit or prevent the Fund from selling securities or unwinding derivative positions at desirable prices.

- Geopolitical and other events may disrupt markets and adversely affect global economies and markets. Those events as well as other changes in foreign and domestic economic and political conditions (e.g. in Russia, the Ukraine and related sanctions) could adversely affect the value of the Fund's investments.

- Fluctuations in exchange rates can adversely affect the market value of the Fund's foreign currency holdings and investments denominated in foreign currencies.

- The use of derivatives involves the risk that their value may not move as expected relative to the value of the relevant underlying assets, rates or indices. Derivatives also present other risks, including market risk, liquidity risk and counterparty risk.

- The Fund runs the risk that the counterparty to an OTC derivatives contract (i.e. one that's not traded on an exchange) or a borrower of the fund's securities will be unable or unwilling to make timely settlement payments or otherwise honour its obligations.

See also the description of the risks applicable to the fund in the section of the prospectus entitled "Risk Factors".
